Congregational Church

Next Sunday morning, the pastor will speak on "Jesus Christ and the Common People." C. E. and S. S. as usual. Topic for C. E.: "Sabbath Benefits." Miss Ada Collins, leader. In the evening the pastor will give a stereopticon service on "The Romance of the Bible." This is in harmony with the request of the Bible Society and the International Committee that the Sunday following Easter be observed as the three hundredth anniversary of the printing of the King James version. These slides will take us from the days of the earliest MSS. to the present. No novelist ever conceived a romance so marvelous as the story of how God preserved His Word through the centuries. Fire and earthquake and war have blotted many things out of existence, but God's Word has been kept. Mighty Kings and powerful Emperors have tried to destroy the Bible, but He that sitteth on the Heavens hath laughed at man's puny attempts. Only the bare outline of the wonderful story can be told Sunday night, but come and get a new insight into the history of this Book. There will be at the service, a copy of the New Testament in Tischendorf's text, a copy of the N. T. in the old Latin vulgate, the Bible in Marathi, portions of the Bible for the blind, the Bible in the original Hebrew, an old hymn book 100 years old, and a copy of the Bible printed just 15 years after Kings James version, or in 1626, also a MSS. copy of the Bible on parchment that antidates the days of printing, illuminated and initiated by an old monk in Asia Minor: Also shadow graphs of the Christ dating back to the 1st and 2nd Centuries and found in the walls of the Catacombs of Ancient Rome.

Quarterly Meeting of the Farmers' Co-Operative Union

The quarterly meeting of the Farmers' Co-Operative and Educational Union of America will be held at Hale's hall, San Jose, tomorrow (Saturday).

Hugh Craig, of San Francisco, will present to the members and visitors a subject on "Scientific Marketing by Co-Operation," which has been a success in New Zealand, Australia and Holland. Mr. Craig has in his travels abroad given this subject his undivided attention and it will no doubt be of great interest to co-workers along this line.

Every Farmers' Union member and fellow-farmer is invited to hear this address at 1:30 p. m.

Dr. M. S. Cross Dead

An Outing in Big Basin

Three Campbell boys, Paul Clark, Gilbert Newcomb and Lawrence Hawkinson, had a delightful week's outing in the early part of the month. They went to the Big Basin park via the Saratoga summit on their wheels, carrying "grub" and a whole outfit with them. As it rained while in the park, they were unable to sleep out, but were royally entertained by the park warden, W. H. Dool, at Redwood Inn. The boys caught some nice fish and had a general good time. They returned thru Boulder Creek and Mount Hermon.

The admission will be twenty-five cents, the proceeds being turned into the High School treasury.

Easter Services at the Congregational Church

Beautiful decorations and inspiring music made the Easter services at the Congregational Church a day long to be remembered. A large fish net had been sent up from Pacific Grove, this was hung on the wall back of the pulpit; framed with garlands of smilax, and filled with delicate sprays of flowers intermingled with Callas, it gave an artistic touch that was beautiful. The railing in front of the choir was banked with a profusion of callag, while other beautiful flowers increased the Easter beauty. The Choir rendered three special pieces in the morning, and the Pastor spoke on lessons from the Easter Earthquake, with a five minute talk to the boys and girls on "Modern ways of keeping Easter." Nearly 250 were present at the morning service. In the evening members of the local Lodge of F. & A. M. with their wives, to the number of nearly 60, attended in a body and occupied seats in the body of the building. The Choir gave a sacred concert of Easter music which was listened to with much interest and pleasure by a full house. The quiet, strong, triumphant and joyful spirit of the Easter time was emphasized throughout the entire service. Much credit is due to those who had the service in charge. The program presented was as follows;

Anthem, Choir; Prayer; Hymn No. 26; Duet, Miss Blain, Miss Duncan; Solo, Mr. Adam; Scripture Reading; Announcements; Quartette, Miss Blain, Miss Duncan, Mr. Adam, Mr. Olmstead; Anthem Choir; Address by Pastor; Solo, Miss Blain; Easter Carol, Choir; Benediction.

Easter at the Methodist Church

The Easter services at the Methodist church were of an interesting character and attracted large crowds. There were nearly 300 present in the morning, when the children had charge of the exercises. The little folks did exceptionally well.

In the evening a beautiful cantata composed by Schenacker was followed by an Easter sermon by the pastor.

Reminiscences

Mr. Editor, several times since I gave your readers some of my early recollections I have been asked to give more of my Reminiscences.

Old time Religion was very different from the present. In my boyhood days one hymn book and one Bible was all that was used in a church. The minister first read the hymn—be it long or short—then he gave the book to the clerk or leader of the singing. He would sing two lines then read two more, until all the Psalm or hymn was sung. Some times a Psalm or a chapter or a part of one was the text.

Here is one not quite 17 years ago, August the 20th, 1894. I listened to and took notes of a discourse on the first seven verses of the 37th Psalm. The speaker said, "In these seven verses we have a ladder of 8 rounds reaching Heavenward.

First round—Fret Not.
Second round—Envy Not.
Third round—Trust in The Lord.
Fourth round—Do Good.
Fifth round—Delight in The Lord.
Sixth round—Commit thy way unto the Lord.
Seventh round—Rest in The Lord.
Eighth round—Wait for The Lord.

This to me was and has been an inspiring discourse.

With shame and sorrow I look back to days and times when I was on the two first rounds of this ladder. They were neither pleasant or happy.

Now after almost 86 years of God's goodness and mercy, by His Grace I hope never again to be on those first two rounds but to remain on the last two—Rest and Wait.

GRAND PA J. W. BROWN.

San Diego.—According to Mrs. Nellie Myers, who was arrested in Ensenada last week on suspicion of being the wife of General Berthold and who is now in the city, there is no truth in the report that Americans are ill treated by the rebels at Alamo and that there is suffering there.

Petaluma. — Michael Inselmini, a Swiss, aged 50 years, was found dead in the bed of a small stream near his home at Tomales. The man left here for his home and had evidently had fallen into the stream and injured himself. His death resulted from the cold and exposure he suffered during the night.

San Francisco.— Charles Coulter, alias George Clark, ex-convict, was branded a fugitive from justice when Police Judge Deasy issued a bench warrant for his arrest and declared his $250 cash bail forfeited. Coulter was one of a trio who fleeced John Gale, an attorney from Vermont, in the old-time matching game and got $56 of his money.

Washington.—The legal contest over the title to the "tide lands" lying in Commencement bay in Tacoma, Wash., harbor ended when the Supreme Court of the United States dismissed the appeal of the Puyallup band of Indians from the adverse decision of the lower Federal Courts. It is said the land will now be used for terminals by railroads.

Pierpont Morgan, who holds a $750,000 mortgage on the estate learned of the deal and took steps to block it.

Sacramento.—The news that Buffalo Bill (William Cody) had effected a compromise with Augusta Dorn of Redding and had paid the $2500 damages asked for injuries received when one of the buffaloes from Cody's Wild West show broke loose and gored her, was announced by the dismissal of the case by the Circuit Court in session here. It was stated that a satisfactory settlement had been made.

TELEPHONE LINES TO BE BUILT INTO THE FOREST

Rangers to Have Further Aid in Fighting Disasterous Fires.

Washington.— Rangers in the national forests will be supplied with portable telephone sets and with a special flexible wire, which can be easily and quickly run along the ground to isolated places in the forests.

The telephones will be of use in summoning help to prevent a repetition of the disastrious conflagrations in the Northwest last August.

The adoption of these telephones is the result of experiments conducted since last summer, with sets similar to those used by the signal corps.

Prevention of large fires has been furthered since last year, through lengthening trails and extending permanent telephone lines. When the fire season arrives, an extra force of rangers will penetrate the isolated parts of the forests, laying their telephone lines along the ground as they go. Metal boxes containing fire-fighting implements, together with a supply of food, have also been distributed along the many trails where they will be easy of access.

American Women and Children Held.

Washington, D. C.—American Consul Schmucker, at Ensenada, telegraphed the State Department that, according to a message he had received from Alamo, the American women and children held at that point were unharmed, but probably would not be permitted to leave the town. He expressed the belief that provisions were becoming exhausted and asked for permission to go to the scene or send a representative to investigate the situation. This was granted.

For Freedom of Speech.

Washington.—Freedom of speech is guaranteed civil service employes under the terms of a bill introduced by Senator Jones of Washington. If this law is enacted, it will not be an offense punishable by dismissal without a hearing for clerks to respectfully criticise the administration of departments where they are employed. Likewise, they will be at liberty to interview Congressmen in their own interests.

Will Investigate Express Rates.

Sacramento.—Complaints against the Wells Fargo Express Company are piling up before the State Railroad Commission and it is a safe prediction that the corporation will soon be under official investigation. The commission has a lengthy schedule of formal hearings ahead of it and the definite date for the investigation of the express company cannot be assigned.

Lemons Object to Squeezing.

Los Angeles.—The lemon growers of California would have to go out of business if the Fruit Importers' Union persuaded Congress and the country that there should be no tariff on lemons, according to officials of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. California produces annually between 6000 and 7000 cars of lemons.

No Damage in Orange Belt.

Porterville.—Frost has been quite heavy here, but little serious damage resulted. Orange buds escaped injury entirely. Deciduous fruit also escaped injury, except in rare instances on low ground. Tomatoes, potatoes and berries also suffered in the lowest section. All high ground vegetation escaped injury entirely.

Indiana Coke Industry.

Gary, Ind.—Five hundred and sixty coke ovens built by the United States Steel Corporation at a cost of $8,500,000 have been put in operation here. Besides the by-product the Gary ovens will produce 2,500,000 tons of coke annually and 7000 tons of bituminous coal will be consumed daily.

Kerosene Started the Blaze.

Sparks, Nev.—Mrs. Almandina Della Santa, 20 years of age, a housewife, was burned to death following an attempt to start the kitchen fire with the aid of kerosene. Her three-months-old baby, in the same house, was rescued unhurt.

Albuquerque Hotel Burns.

Albuquerque, N. M.—Fire broke out in the Denver hotel here and raged fiercely for hours. Many of the guests had narrow escapes, reaching the street clad only in their night clothes. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

Bodies of Miners Recovered.

Littleton, Ala.—Twenty-three bodies have been taken from the Banner mine. The work of rescue is progressing rapidly. It is now believed 128 men were in the mine in addition to those who were taken out.

No Crops Planted in Mexico Threatened With Famine

Agua Prieta, Mexico.—Conditions are rapidly shaping themselves in the States of Chihuahua and Sonora, Mexico, for a crisis more serious than the loss of life in battle. Americans on the bordeland and in these two States, who know Mexico and the Mexicans the best, unite in the general prediction that unless the rebellion is ended with peace overtures very soon, all northern Mexico will experience a famine which can only be relieved by help from the United States or the Mexican Government.

On account of the spirit of unrest and general discontent already prevailing last October, the planting of wheat was neglected and even if the small crop planted can be harvested, which is improbable, it will be limited.

The real planting season, however, is in the spring, but so intent upon rebellion have the Mexicans been, that almost no planting has been done.

The ground has not been prepared for the corn crop, the mainstay of the people of northern Mexico. Supplies on hand to tide the population over the summer and into the fall are well nigh exhausted, for not only has there been no producing population, but the very country which produces the crops has been overrun time and again by rebel bands which have consumed the stores laid by.

The rebel General, Blanco, entered Sonora from Chihuahua, and in his wake from Baserac to the American line left nothing but broken-down horses and empty corn bins. Horses and mules depended upon to assist in farming pursuits, have been rounded up for the rebel soldiers.

What men have not entered the rebel ranks as fighters have fled from their homes and fields to escape impressment into the Federal ranks, or to avoid the payment of war tribute exacted by the rebel leaders on their recruiting marches. In this manner, first the Bavispe valley, the Yaqui valley and then the Nacozari valley, and now the Sonora River valley, have been deserted by the crop growers and practically given over to the rebel armies.

The cities of Sahuaripa, Fronteras and Arizpe, capitals of the districts of these names, have been entirely abandoned by the Federal Government. Cananea has only a portion of one troop of Federal troops, with volunteers. Moctezuma is guarded by but a handful of volunteers.

Agua Prieta, Mexico.—The most important battle of the Mexican revolution was fought here Monday between 1600 Federals, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Diaz, and 1000 rebels under Balasario Garcia, and resulted in the repulse of the former. The battle, however, was not finally decisive. It lasted from 6:30 a. m. until sundown. At nighfall two Federal machine guns were in the possession of the enemy, and they had suffered a loss estimated by the rebels at 200 killed and wounded. The rebels gave their loss at 20.

From the beginning of the battle, regardless of the warning given by the United States Government to the leaders of both forces, a rain of bullets poured into the American town of Douglas, and when the day was over it was found that seven non-combatant residents of that city had been wounded. It was a day almost of terror in Douglas.

Japanese Treaty With Mexico Makes Stir at Capitol

Washington.—Not since rush orders were issued for American troops and warships to hasten to the Mexican frontier has there been as great interest excited as when a Mexico City dispatch confirmed circumstantially United Press reports which showed that Japan was the secret foe whose aggressions were guarded against by that call to arms.

That, when a secret treaty with Japan was discovered to have been made by President Diaz, Taft gave Mexico just six days to "back down" and that the proof of the compact was brought to Washington by Ambassador Wilson in actual photographs of parts of the secret treaty were revelations which have caused the greatest suppressed excitement. Of course, no department officer will confirm the statement and the President's advisers are mute. Little doubt is expressed, however, that the secret story of President Taft's remarkable call to arms has at last been fully set forth.

The very day after he obtained his photographs, the dispatch says, Ambassador Wilson started to Washington. When he arrived he went direct to the Cabinet room, where President Taft's advisers were in session. General Wood was summoned at once and that night the mobilization was ordered.

Next day, the dispatch says, Ambassador Wilson went to New York and delivered a message to Mexican Finance Minister Limantour, declaring that America would view the fulfillment of the secret treaty as an unfriendly act. The Government, he told Limantour, gave Diaz just six days to abrogate the treaty, failing which it threatened to "take whatever action might be necessary to defend itself."

Chinese Emigrants Landed in Mexico are Foiled

San Diego.—Owing to the unceasing vigilance of the army patrols at the international boundary line and the sharp watch on the coast maintained by the immigration officials in the Government power boat Orient, about 200 Chinese are said to be on the verge of starvation at Ensenada, Lower California.

Chinese merchants in San Diego have shipped 100 mats of rice by steamer to Ensenada to feed the Chinese held there by the exclusion law of the United States, with the hope that they may elude the United States officers and cross the line into California.

Smuggling Chinese from Ensenada, which is said to be the center of the activities of the smugglers on the coast of southern California, has been practically suppressed by the crew of the Orient and the army patrols. The patrols established to prevent filibustering expeditions into Lower California have blocked all the trails which the immigration officials heretofore could not watch unceasingly. With the Orient at sea the business of transporting the Chinese north from Ensenada in the launches has become too hazardous and consequently they have been forced to wait here or go south to other Mexican ports.

Towns Razed and 27 Killed in A Twisting Tornado

Kansas City.— Twenty-seven dead, 150 injured and damage of more than $2,000,000 is computed as the toll of a tornado which wrecked 14 towns in Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma. Following are the more serious casualties in some of the larger towns devastated:

Big Heart, Okla., 10 dead, 40 injured; Checotah, Okla., 2 dead; Hiawatha, Kan., 3 dead; Joplin, Mo., 1 dead, 4 injured; Meeker, Okla., 3 injured; Powhattan, Kan., 2 dead, 1 injured; Whiting, Kan., 1 dead, 30 injured; Lawrence, Kan., 3 dead, 10 injured; Manville, Kan., 1 dead; Webb City, Mo., 4 injured.

The town of Whiting was absolutely destroyed, 60 building being leveled to the earth and practically everyone of their inhabitants injured. Mrs. David Stone, the wife of a Whiting farmer, who was killed, was carried half a mile by the terrific wind and every bone in her body was broken.

At Eskridge 20 school children were injured when a school house was demolished.

The tornado was accompanied by a driving rain and swept everything in its path. Houses were blown from their foundations and the occupants whirled through the air.

WINE GROWERS IN FRANCE TURN CHAMPAGNE TO WASTE

Locality Discrimination in the Labeling Causes Serious Conflict.

Paris. — Rioting has been caused among the wine growers by a ruling of the Senate that only certain districts have a right to label their product "Champagne," all others being required to label their bottles "Champagne made at—" wherever the town is in which the cellars are located.

Defying strong detachments of dragoons who are policing the whole department of the Marne thousands of wine growers renewed their riots and champagne flowed like water in the streets of half a dozen towns.

Seven thousand of the irate wine-growers marched against Epernay, where there are enormous cellars and a serious conflict ensued. In Venteuil the growers attacked the cellars and, under a red flag. they destroyed thousands of bottles of wine. It is reported that the rioters have fired houses at Ay.

The Attorney-General attempted to go to Venteuil, but as the streets were filled with broken bottles, he was unable to make any progress the wheels of his auto being cut to pieces.

Members of Trust Expire.

New York.—Gustav Kissel, who was recently indicted by the Grand Jury for conspiracy in connection with the sugar cases for evasion of customs duties, died here. Since the sugar scandal broke out seven high officials of the trust have died. Henry Havemeyer, head of the trust, died suddenly; George Graham and Frank Nipple committed suicide and H. K. Pomeroy, W. F. Osborne, Michael Cordoza and Nathan Guilford all expired after brief illness.

San Francisco Shacks Must Go.

San Francisco.—The ordinance providing for the removal of shack buildings was passed to print by the Board of Supervisors. The Board of Public Works will decide as to the order in which removal shall be enforced, directing "a process of gradual elimination." Empty structures, particularly those insanitary or a peril as a fire hazard to adjacent permanent buildings, will be torn down first.

Are Now Open to Engagements.

New York.—Three New Haven, Conn., girls the Misses Belle, Henrietta and Marion Feuchtwenger, will receive $10,000 each from the estate of their uncle, Meyer Feuchtwanger, who died in this city April 6th, for not marrying during his life. The young women have just filed a petition with the courts here saying that they have complied with their uncle's wishes.

Socialists See Fraud.

Oakland.—Through the activity of the Socialist party in this city, fraud has been unearthed in the registration lists being prepared for the coming municipal election. It has already been found without possibility of contradiction that thousands have been falsely registered as voters for the approaching contests.

Death Was His Refuge.

Denver.—Gus Lowitt, a young man who is said to have been concerned in some banking irregularities in Portland, Or., committed suicide here by jumping from a window on the sixth floor of the Ernest & Cramer building. A constable had just served a warrant, charging him with selling a mortgaged automobile.

Frost Nips the Grapes.

Fresno.—Two-thirds of the grape crop of the southern San Joaquin valley was killed by frost, according to the estimates of growers, buyers and shippers. The fruit crop also was damaged, but not so seriously. Young alafalfa was killed, but the heaviest loss is in seedless raisins.

Stabbed With Candle Stick.

Willows.—After being out a little more than an hour the jury in the case of the people against William Turner brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. Turner stabbed William Wylie with a miner's candlestick some weeks ago.

"Devil" Loose in Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky.—Breathitt county is again face to face with a feud war. The opening shots were fired when "Devil" Anson White shot and killed Jason Deacon, wounded Luke Begeley and was himself shot in the thigh.

Tokio Has Fire Loss.

Tokio.—It is roughly estimated that $3,000,000 will cover the property loss caused by the fire which wiped out the Yoshiwari, that district of the capital where social license is permitted under municipal surveillance.

Free from Alcohol

Since May, 1906, Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been entirely free from alcohol. If you are in poor health, weak, pale, nervous, ask your doctor about taking this non-alcoholic tonic and alterative. If he has a better medicine, take his. Get the best always. This is our advice.

A sluggish liver means a coated tongue, a bad breath, and constipated bowels. The question is, "What is the best thing to do under such circumstances?" Ask your doctor if this is not a good answer: "Take laxative doses of Ayer's Pills."

What Fertilizers to Use.

The kind and amount of fertilizers which can be most economically used on a certain crop or on a certain soil, can be determined only by an actual test. No chemical analysis of either the soil or the plant wil show this accurately. The kind of fertilizing needed will depend more upon the natural character of the soil, its previous treatment and its present mechanical condition, than upon the actual plant food taken up by the growing crop. The following suggestions as to the amount and composition of the fertilizers needed for different crops are based on the experience of experiment stations, and of successful farmers in different parts of the country. The figures here biven represent the averages which have been found most profitable on ordinary soils in fair condition.

APPLES.

Under this head are considered only apple trees in bearing. The apple which is too well known to require descriptive mention here, may be grown in the south with reasonable success, but it thrives best in the northern half or in the cooler altitudes.

Soil. A rich, well drained clay loam is best for the apple. Wet soils, or those subject to flooding, as well as hard, dry clays should be avoided. Dry hillsides are generally less favorable than lower and flat land, which is only rolling enough to insure free drainage, and that which slopes to the north is to be preferred to that having a southern exposure. Light, thin soils do not yield fruit satisfactorily in quantity or quality, unless liberally supplied with fertilizer and thoroughly cultivated.

Cultivation. When apple trees have reached bearing age, the land is often seeded to grass, which should be mown several times eaoh year, leaving cuttings to decay where they fall, unless the better practice can be followed of pasturing with sheep. In sections tending to dry, hot summers, orchards are best plowed early in the spring and cultivated through the summer until August, when crimson clover is planted. The object of the tillage is to hold all possible moisture by means of earth mulch and the clover serves as a winter soil-cover, and to store up nitrogen fertilizer for the next season's use, or growth. Young apple trees are planted after from one to four years' growth in the nursery row. There is no advantage in planting trees of over two years' growth, and they should be set from 30 to 40 feet apart each way in the north, that is, 27 to 48 trees per acre; but in the south, where they grow less vigorously 25 to 30 feet is a proper distance,—that is, 40 to 70 per acre. While trees are young, the orchard may be planted in corn, or any clean cultivation crop, but it must be clearly kept in mind that two crops are being grown, and that both demand liberal feeding with fertilizer.

Fertilizing. When trees are first planted a vigorous growth is desired, which necessitates a fertilizing treatment different from that of trees in bearing. Trees in bearing draw from the soil annually for two crops, the one the yield of fruit, and the other the tree growth of new wood and leaves. A careful study of the fruit, wood and leaf growth of an acre of apple trees, (35 trees) shows an annual demand of fertilizer as follows.

Nitrogen	67 lbs.
Potash	95 lbs.
Phosphoric acid	26 lbs.

As the annual growth actually requires the above quantities of fertilizer, that which is used should show some relation to the same. From 600 to 1,000 pounds per acre should be applied each year of a fertilizer containing:

Nitrogen	2%
Actual potash	9@
Available phosphoric acid	7%

This amount of fertilizer may seem excessive, but a study of the soil-exhaustion of the crop shows that it is all needed. A half-starved orchard gets "scrubby," produces only a little ill flavored fruit, and lives but a short life.

Suggestions. The bearing orchard should have an application of one ton of slaked lime, broadcast, every three years. In regions where the ground is covered by snow any great length of time, young trees are often injured by rabbits gnawing the bark; this may be prevented by fastening two-feet sections of corn stalks around the base of each tree, or by smearing the tree trunk with blood from the refuse in butchering. Mulching should not be applied in the fall, as it affords a harbor for mice, which are as destructive as rabbits. Apple trees should be sprayed regularly with Bordeaux mixture and Arsenic, to hold in check the apple scab and codlin moth. Full directions are given by most of the Experiment Stations.

As Puck said, "What fools these mortals be!" If there were no fools there would be no rogues, just as if there was no filth there would be no flies, and if there were no swamps there would be no mosquitoes.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl." —Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is more widely and successfully used than any other remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. Why don't you try it?

Gentle Reminder.

It was midnight. The man had entered the house as quietly as possible. His shoes made some noise. He had just reached the door of the bedroom when he heard some one moving in the bed as if about to get up, and he paused. The sound of a woman's voice floated to his ears.

"If you don't take your boots off when you come into this house," it said "there's going to be trouble, and a whole lot of. Here it's been raining for three hours and you dare to tramp over my carpets with your muddy boots on. Go downstairs and take them off this minute!"

He went downstairs without a word, but he didn't take off his boots. Instead he went straight out into the night again, and the pal who was waiting for him saw a tear glisten in his eye.

"I can't rob that house!" he said. "It reminds me of home."—Blue Bull.

Varying Weight of Brain.

The average weight of the male brain is from 40 to 50 ounces; that of the average female brain about five ounces less. The ratio of the brain weight to that of the body is the same in both sexes; consequently the difference of weight in the brain of males and females is due to the lesser body weight in woman and not to inferior cerebral development. Thackeray and Cuvier had brains weighing 54 and 58 ounces, respectively, while the brain of Gambetta weighed but 41 ounces, or less than that of the average boy of seven. The brain of Byron weighed 60 ounces and that of Dante but 50. Simms found an idiot boy whose brain weighed 59 ounces and an ignorant man who had a brain weighing 78 ounces.

For she taught them and they drew their fortitude from her.—Mary Twain's tribute to his wife.

Water used in sprinkling the streets of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., has with it a certain amount of chloride mixture by which it is hoped to check the spread of infectious diseases. Eggs Many Years Old.

A somewhat remarkable discovery was made in demolishing the Justiciary buildings in Jail square, Glasgow. Hidden among the rafters was a hen's nest containing 16 eggs, which those who know say must have lain there for about forty years. When exposed to the air the eggs dissolved into dust.

A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The Happy Way.

There is always a best way of doing everything, if it be but to boil an egg. Manners are the happy ways of doing things; each one a stroke of genius or of love—now repeated and hardened into usage. They form at least a rich varnish, with which the routine of life is washed and its details adorned. If they are superficial, we are the dewdrops which give such a depth to the morning meadows. Manners are very communicable; men catch them from each other.

The Child and the Telephone.

A child should be taught as early as possible to call at least one telephone number, a neighbor, father's place of business, or physician. I taught our little boy, who is just three, to call a neighbor's number, and twice have found it useful, once when taken very ill, and again having burned my arm badly. He was able to call and receive immediate assistance.—Harper's Bazar.

High Grade Rice in Manchuria.

Experiments in the growing of rice in Manchuria are said to show that rice can be grown there more profitably than in China propor or Japan, and more profitably than either corn or soya beans. The season is short, but long enough to produce high grade rice.

Well Meant.

A description of a wedding explains that "the bride was charmingly though becomingly dressed." It reminds us of the reporter's note, "The patient is much better, though Doctor Brown is still in attendance."

Keeping Step with our Ideals

By MAE. M. WHITMAN

Passing the High School grounds of Campbell the other day, the writer noticed how greatly they were being improved. They will, doubtless, 'ere long furnish a worthy setting for the "Roosevelt Redwood" in which the citizens take such pride. Before the best can be realized for both the Grammar and High Schools, it is absolutely imperative that the grounds be enlarged. Not only that the buildings have proper setting in their relation to the school, but that no unsightly buildings nor unsanitary conditions maybe imposed upon the schools by private interests.

It is well that the Grammar school has already taken the initiative and asked the District to vote bonds for that very purpose. Every citizen should help in the realization of these outlined plans.

Along the line of newer ideals, many are hoping to have manual training established in these public schools, and at no distant day.

The advantages of physical training are universally conceded. Athletics develop muscles and health. The laurels won by these high school pupils are well-deserved and are a source of general satisfaction. But there is vital need of the all-round development which comes through manual training in conjunction with the mental and physical training now practiced. Training of the hand means training of the perception and judgment; development of a sense of proportion,—a training of the eye and, more or less of all the faculties.

It has been pertinently said that the majority of mankind must earn their living by means of the brain in the hand, rather than by the brain in the skull.

How important, then, that every community incorporate into its public school system the opportunity of developing in every pupil his or her highest possibilities.

The very best there is in up-to-date methods and ideals are none too good for Campbell.

Coming down the street we dropped into the public Library and had a little chat with the sweet-voiced, gentle lady in charge. There are now something over 1300 volumes in place. Prof. E. Janes, its founder and faithful librarian, is still actively engaged in work for its upbuilding, as he has been for the past seventeen years. In connection with this Library is a free Reading Room cared for by the Country Woman's Club, where one finds plenty of first class magazines and the daily papers.

This room furnishes the Forum where the Countryman's Club discusses a variety of progressive ideas and where the Improvement Club meets for its deliberations.

The lot upon which the temporary building stands, is a valuable one, and the Woman's Club is showing excellent taste in the selection of trees recently set out. The building has been raised since "The Flood" which is a great improvement.

Spiritual ideals and forces are not without leaders in the two Churches, Sunday Schools and Youn People's Societies in Campbell. The most valuable man or woman who can come into a community, is that one who wants the best things, and who desires the best things for others as well as for himself.

Advancement of the interests of village, town or city does not consist in merely the obliteration and destruction of the undesirable, but in the construction of what is wholesome and uplifting. Campbell has always been known as a temperance town, yet we believe the community has not reached the ideal it sought in banishing the saloon.

There has been a dearth of places where young men and homeless men may while away their leisure hours. This lack on the part of the citizens to furnish an adequate place of recreation and rest may be somewhat responsible for the numerous gambling places which prevailed over the town last summer. We confidently believe if the Woman's Christian Temperance Union who have so successfully operated a Coffee Club for some years past, would erect a good-sized building upon their lot so conveniently located on Harrison Avenue, just across from the J. C. Ainsley Packing House, and make provision where working men and boys may spend odd hours in games, recreation and reading, it would go a long way in supplanting temptations to evil which beset the young men. The Coffee Club fosters the spirit of kindliness. It tends to supplant the "I am as good as you are" spirit, with "you are as good as I am" spirit in both needs and ambitions. The fame of California's Coffee Clubs has been heralded in such magazines as The Arena, Public Opinion, the American Issue and in over fifty different papers in the United States, as well as in a number of prominent papers in England.

The Campbell Coffee Club has done good work in the past, providing home-cooked, appetizing foods at minimum cost,—all served with courtesy, whether the order was 5 cents or five times that amount.

The chief attraction of the Coffee Club system in every place where it has been established, has been its wholesome, yet inexpensive food.

When putting up the new building, we think it should be large enough to furnish a recreation and reading room for the men as well as the rest room so necessary to the women and girls.

The Political Equality Club is another organization having large ideals toward which it is working.

It is now to have a column in the Press each week in its own interests, in which will be set forth its ideals and aims more ably than we could possibly do in one short article.

The Boys Club also has a management from which we hope to hear regarding the aims and purposes of that worthy organization.

We come now to "The Park," the place where tourists and visitors get their first impression of Campbell.

Upon a second look, we are led to exclaim "Who will furnish an ideal for this neglected little spot and make of it a gem of beauty?"

With a fitting plan carefully carried out, it is possible to make the spot one in which all shall take real delight and pride.

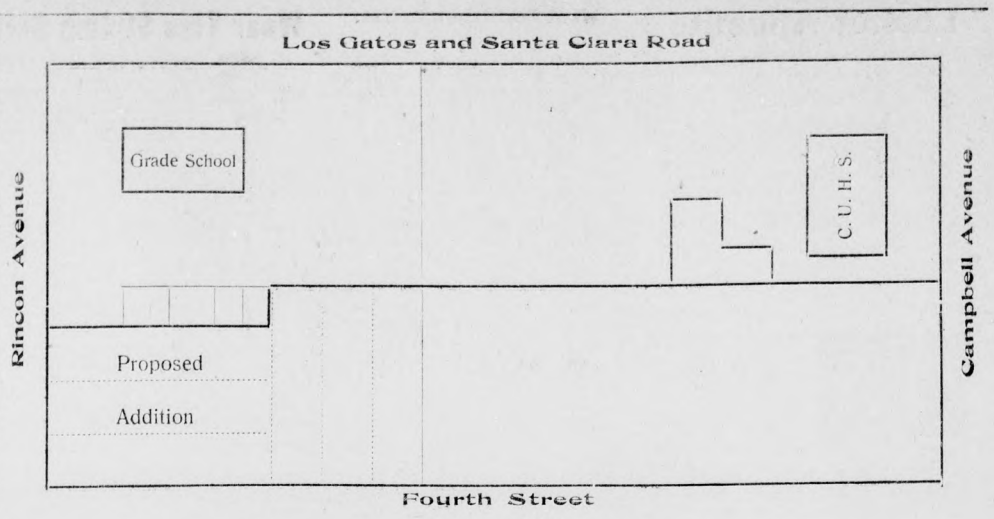
Campbell, by nature, excels in situation: we must not, however, be content with that.

Blossoms, sunshine, fragrance, hospitality are not enough.

The achievements of a community do not lie entirely in the ideals it cherishes. It is keeping step with our ideals, that makes for progress and joy in living.

IT is said that "If there remained any doubt in the minds of the people of San Francisco and vicinity that Theodore Roosevelt still retained his remarkable influence and drawing power with the masses since his retirement to private life from the arduous duties as chief executive of the nation, there is every reason to believe that it has been dissipated as a result of the former president's visit to San Francisco."

Vote for the Bonds to Secure the Additional School Grounds, Walks, Etc.



1. So good an opportunity will never come again.
2. The town is bound to grow. Get ready for future expansion.
3. The school grounds are the best public exponent of public spirit and advertise to every passerby.
4. It will be a start toward industrial and vocational training.
5. Guard against a long line of barns, chicken houses and outbuildings abutting on the school grounds, perhaps within a few feet of the school buildings.
6. The cost is trivial. A man having property assessed at $1000 will pay fifty cents a year for six years.
7. Less than the remainder of the block cannot be secured, even if desirable.
8. Campbell is the best town in the county and should lead the line in rural schools.

Equal Suffrage in Wyoming

It may not be generally known that Wyoming has had equal suffrage for forty years. That it still survives as a sovereign state ought to weigh with the doubters.

The circumstances which brought about the giving of the ballot to women were very peculiar. It all seemed the merest chance. Mrs. Esther Morris, who is known as the "Mother of Equal Suffrage," had been nursing a friend through an illness. The husband of this friend was a member of the Territorial Legislature, and when the honorable gentleman departed for the Capital, to attend the legislative session, he asked Mrs. Morris what he could do for her. She answered that he might do something toward securing the ballot for women. He gave his promise—and kept it. Much to his surprise the measure went through.

Many years after, when Wyoming became a State, the Suffrage plank was retained. The men of Wyoming had found that it was not good for man to be alone, even in the political field. They found that they had nothing to fear from women in politics, any more than in any of the ordinary walks of life.

It has been argued that giving the ballot to woman would be to invite domestic dissension. But as religion is also a very fruitful source of domestic infelicity, that argument falls flat. For we may no more remove all causes of disturbance in families than we may cease to respond to the great First Cause. We just have to settle our difficulties as best we may.

Often in Wyoming, when a husband and wife find that they cannot vote alike, they agree not to vote at all.

It used to be urged that women would not vote because they would have to tell their ages. That is a groundless argument. For all anyone has to do is to raise a hand and swear that he, or she, is over twenty-one years of age. Women in Wyoming are not required to bear arms, nor to do jury duty. But since clergymen, and some other classes of men, are likewise exempt this is not making a discrimination on account of sex.

A recent writer for the Eastern press, having investigated the situation in Wyoming, has come to the conclusion that women in that State do not live up to their opportunities. So also, he said, had not man. Being broad-minded he saw that the same causes which operate against radical reform movements, in the case of the man, apply also in the case of the woman. He seemed to think that the question of equal suffrage was a simple one of right, and justice, toward all citizen of these United States. And he found nothing to censure the women of Wyoming for in not having a larger share in political matters.

First, last, and all the time, women are women. And acts of legislature can never make a true woman false, or a false woman true. And if, after forty years of equal suffrage, the people of Wyoming still consider it a grand success, it is not for those who have not seen it tried to gainsay them.
